

Airline Crash That Kills 63 Still Mystery

By DORMAN CORDELL

TELL CITY, Ind. (AP) — Air crash detectives moved in a big power shovel today to dig for remains of a Northwest Airlines turboprop that exploded in flight and then drilled a crater in a southern Indiana farm.

They still had no idea whether a bomb, rough air or something else wrecked the craft and killed all 63 persons aboard late Thursday.

Meanwhile, Wm. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), who lost his own son and daughter-in-law in a plane crash last January, was expected to meet with federal and state officials investigating the disaster.

In St. Paul, Northwest Airlines officials announced a plan to fly relatives of the victims to a memorial service at the scene next week.

The cause of the crash remained a frustrating mystery. The wreckage was so shattered that for clues investigators had only fragments of airplane and bodies.

Among possibilities still being checked were that violent turbulence might have shaken the airliner to pieces or that a bomb might have been planted aboard it.

The Civil Aeronautics Board quoted Air Force Capt. James P. Moore of Enon, Ohio, as saying he saw an aerial column of smoke dropping through the sky about the same time as the Northwest crash—and also about the same time heavy turbulence shook up his jet fighter during a flight over Louisville, Ky. The Northwest plane crashed about 60 miles west of Louisville.

Officials said they had found no specific clues indicating sabotage but still were unable to rule out that possibility.

The four-engine Lockheed Electra was bound from Minneapolis and Chicago to Miami when it exploded in the air in the 10th major air disaster in the world this year.

The body of the Electra plunged into a field in the midst of rugged Ohio River hills and blew up again, blasting a crater 25 feet deep and 40 feet across.

After moving the power shovel about a mile and a half from a road over snow-soggy ground, the investigators planned to use it to unearth wreckage and, possibly, bodies from the bottom of the crater in farmer Joe Wilson's field.

Suspects Are Rounded Up in Illinois

By CONRAD FINK

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Authorities today ordered a roundup of known fur poachers for questioning in an investigation of the brutal slaying of three prominent women.

Those being sought are men known to conservation officials for their past activities in illegally trapping animals in rugged Starved Rock State Park where the bodies of the three beaten women were found Wednesday.

Supt. William Morris of the Illinois State Police said he has received reports that poachers have been seen operating in the park this winter. The 1,475-acre recreation area abounds in mink, muskrat and fox and poachers have long been a problem for conservation officials.

Investigators speculated the slain women may have surprised one or more poachers in St. Louis Canyon, where the bodies were found in a shallow cave, and been killed to keep them from notifying authorities.

At the scene of the slaying 11 men sifted snow through a huge screen today in the hope of finding additional clues to the killer or killers.

Meanwhile, authorities pinned hopes of tracing the slayers on bits of hair, slivers of bark and several photographs which the women apparently took in the park just before they were slain. Morris said two or three men, whom he declined to identify, would be questioned in connection with the case.

Weather

Arkansas—Partly cloudy today and tomorrow, no important temperature changes. High in 50s.

KNIT WITS—Having a real ball (of yarn, that is) in London, England, is Reading University student Susan Clifford, 20. She began working on a scarflike object last October. Fellow students pitched in to help—and now it's reached the outlandish length of over 200 feet and long it will be when finished—or even, for sure, what it is.

Segregation Minister Asks for Boycott

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A segregationist minister has called for a boycott of downtown merchants as a result of Little Rock's latest lunch counter sitdown demonstrations.

The Rev. Wesley Pruden, pastor of Broadmor Baptist Church, proposed last night that other ministers urge their congregations to avoid Main Street stores.

Pruden said merchants would not integrate their lunch counters although some worked for public school integration.

About 50 young Negroes staged sitdowns at lunch counters in two drug stores and three department stores yesterday. The lunch counters were closed temporarily and the Negroes left.

There was no violence and no arrests were made.

Pruden, chaplain of the segregationist Capital Citizens Council, said a boycott should be kept in force until merchants "pledge themselves to work not only for continued segregation in their stores but also to help get the Negroes out of our white schools."

Last year, the Citizens Council announced a boycott of downtown businesses because some merchants supported the reopening of public high schools, even if it meant token integration.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus kept the high schools shut in the 1958-59 school year to avert court-ordered desegregation. The Little Rock School Board opened the four high schools with a handful of Negroes in once-white Central and Hall High schools last Aug. 12.

Merchants have termed the Council's boycott a failure.

Another Baptist minister—Negro—took a view of the sitdowns which was in sharp contrast to Pruden's attitude.

The Rev. Roland Smith, president of the Arkansas Christian Movement (Negro), called for "love and patience" during any protests such as lunch counter sitdowns.

Smith said the demonstrations by the Negro youths were "an expression of dissatisfaction with denial of their constitutional rights."

Yesterday's sitdowns came on the heels of the municipal court trial of five Negro college students charged in connection with an earlier lunch counter demonstration.

The five students at Philander Smith College for Negroes, drew 30-day jail terms and $250 fines. They were released on bonds of $600 each and the sentences are being appealed.

DeGaulle Rejects Majority Demand

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle today rejected the demand of a majority of the National Assembly for a special session to debate France's farm crisis.

De Gaulle wrote the Assembly Speaker Jacques Chaban-Delmas that the conditions under which the deputies asked for the session were not "compatible with the spirit of institutions which I must see as respected" or with the powers given him by the constitution.

The rejection is likely to open a constitutional crisis, a test of strength between Parliament and the President.

Rev. John W. House

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE on South Elm will begin a revival Monday at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. John W. House from North Little Rock will be the evangelist. Services will be held each night including Saturday through March 27.

Overnight Prison Visits Considered

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The Alaska Senate Thursday passed, 12-7, a House bill to permit honor prisoners to have periodic overnight visits from their spouses.

An opponent, Sen. B. J. Logan, claimed the visitation system would make Alaska "the laughing stock of every two-bit master of ceremonies with nothing else to joke about."

But Sen. George B. McNabb said it would help hold families together and be an incentive to good behavior.

Spouses of prisoners with good behavior records would be permitted to make 24-hour visits every six weeks. Visits would be at the place of confinement, if facilities exist. The privilege would be limited to prisoners married longer than six months and serving sentences of more than six weeks.

Patrolman Felt Out of Place

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Patrolman Paul F. Healey felt a little out of place as he directed downtown traffic on St. Patrick's Day.

For this Irishman was wearing not green, but a fluorescent orange raincoat. The thing was visible blocks away.

It turned out that the city was testing the new color, and someone had decided to test it Thursday.

Healey took several hours of ruzzing from pedestrians, then gave up. He double-timed back to the station to replace the orange coat with his old yellow slicker.

Adenauer to Have Easy Weekend

LOS ANGELES (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had a taxing schedule ahead of him today, but beyond it lay the prospect of a leisurely week with the end in the Southern California desert.

Adenauer arrived by plane from Washington Thursday night. Today he receives an honorary degree at the University of California at Los Angeles. He attends a luncheon, holds a news conference, and makes a major speech.

Dollarway to Appeal Ruling of Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Dollarway School Board is appealing a ruling which permitted three Negro students to file a desegregation suit in U. S. District Court rather than going through the state courts.

Notice of the appeal, which goes to the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis, was mailed by board attorneys yesterday.

On Feb. 19, U. S. District Judge J. Smith Henley held that "a party who claims that his federal constitutional rights have been abridged by state administrative action... is not required to exhaust judicial remedies in the state courts before resorting to the federal courts for the vindication of his rights."

The Negroes sought admission to all-white Dollarway School near Pine Bluff, under the state pupil placement law, as suggested in an earlier appeals court ruling.

The board refused to admit them and they asked the federal court to order their transfer.

Henley refused to order the Negroes admission to Dollarway. This term, he rejected the board's contention that before they could come to federal court at all they would have to go through the state courts as provided in the placement law.

Board attorney Herschel H. Friday Jr. said his clients also were appealing a ruling that race of students could not be considered as a part of assignment standards.

Henley said the board could consider race as a factor only if it had a desegregation plan or policy in operation.

Henley ordered the board to file such a plan within 30 days. Deadline is tomorrow.

Bi-Racial Talks Okay By Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus today gave qualified approval to President Eisenhower's proposal for bi-racial committees as a step toward solution of racial problems.

Faubus told his news conference he thought the idea had merit "if the federal government ceases its unwarranted interference."

"Then these people would know they don't have that federal force behind them and they would be able to sit down and negotiate," Faubus said.

By "these people," Faubus obviously meant integrationists and others he has contended were supported by federal authority.

Faubus declined comment on lunch counter sitdowns by groups of young Negroes in downtown Little Rock yesterday.

He said he had not reached any decision on whether he would speak in Los Angeles April 1.

At one time, Faubus said he had accepted an invitation from a California group which hoped he would run for president.

When he announced Wednesday as a candidate for a fourth term as governor, he said he was uncertain about the Los Angeles date.

Voting Referee Plan Backers Express Hope

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of the voting referee plan expressed confidence today the House will approve it next week, even though a major attempt to narrow its terms was beaten by only three votes Friday.

The issue Friday was whether the plan for referees to help Negroes and others fight efforts to keep them from voting should apply to all elections, including state and local tests, or only to those for federal officers. The vote to keep the broad plan intact was 137-134.

In the Senate, a proposal to let the President appoint federal registrars in areas where he believed there was voting discrimination against Negroes was defeated 53-24 on a roll-call vote.

Rep. William McCulloch of Ohio, leader of House Republicans favoring strong civil rights legislation, said after the House vote "This was the closest question in the whole legislation."

"Many of our people who voted to restrict the referees' role to federal elections will vote for the plan as a whole when the time comes. It was a matter of conscientious conviction — some felt very strongly there should be no federal participation in the machinery of purely local elections, for county commissioners and that sort of office."

The vote was taken by tellers, without a record of how individuals voted. However, it appeared as the members filed down the aisle to be counted that Republicans, despite the strong administration urgings, divided about equally.

The vote on the referee plan was expected Tuesday.

Other amendments will be offered to the over-all civil rights bill after the voting referee issue is settled. Leaders said the final vote on the bill might come late Tuesday, more probably Wednesday.

Clues Sought in Brutal Slayings

By CONRAD FINK

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Police sifted through three possible clues today in the search for leads to the brutal slaying of three nationally prominent women.

But Supt. William Morris of the Illinois state police said, "We haven't got anything definite."

He added police would question two or three men in connection with the fatal bludgeoning of the women in Starved Rock State Park. He declined to identify them.

Morris said that several tufts of hair found in the hand of one of the victims, Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, were sent to the state police laboratory in Springfield for microscopic examination. Morris declined to say whether the hair might have been torn from the slayer's head in a death struggle.

Also sent to the police lab were slivers of bark removed from Mrs. Oetting's skull. Technicians were to compare the bits of bark with a gnarled three-foot long tree limb found alongside the women's bodies at the closed end of picturesque St. Louis Canyon.

The tree limb was blood-smeared and authorities said it could have been used in the bludgeoning-slaying of the women.

A search group found the bodies of the women on the banks of the George Washington Bridge today sent rocks flying hundreds of feet, injured four persons, shattered windows at a Bert Murphy, a vice president of school, and panicked pupils in classes there.

Three windows were broken at the Greek Orthodox Parochial School of St. Spyridon at 17th St. Police established the women and Wadsworth Ave. Two teachers were slain early Monday afternoon and began cooking his mother, Edna, 33.

A roll of 35 m.m. camera film yielded three color transparencies. State Atty. Harold Warren said the photos produced new leads in the case but he did not allow newsmen to inspect the photos. He also declined to comment on how they might figure in the case. The camera, owned by one of the victims, was retrieved near the entrance to the cave.

It was learned that all three photos were taken of the women posing in the park.

Stars to Separate

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Young film stars Don Murray and Hope Lange are separating. They said "What about me?" His summons, it turned out, was for East Lynne Town Court, about 10 miles away. His name was not learned.

Chinchilla Raiser Makes a Hobby of His Business From the Prince of Rodents

By MARY ANITA LASETER

You've heard of people who seemed to have the "world by the tail?" Well, a chinchilla raiser or breeder generally has his hobby — business the same way, for he carries the chinchilla by the tail to keep from damaging the fur. Not very dignified for an animal who is known as Prince of the rodent family.

Before we get too "carried away" with the subject of the animals themselves, let's take a look at a local chinchilla raiser, Paul Raley has a herd of 85 of the pretty little creatures with the precious coats of fur.

Mr. Raley first became interested in raising chinchillas in 1952 when he purchased a pair from Harold Stephens of Blevins, who was the first person to introduce them to our immediate area. At that time the two little animals, which grow to a mature size of 22 ounces, seemed almost lost in the building directly back of the Raley home.

Such is not the case today, for the Raley herd now numbers 85 and although there are two houses for the animals, he has them all occupying the same building with their cages in tiers. Since high temperature plus high humidity is a dangerous combination for chinchillas, an air conditioning unit keeps the temperature at a pleasant 70 degrees throughout the summer.

Cold weather isn't as big a problem as the chinchilla has his own gorgeous fur coat. In fact, it's generally suggested that enough heat be provided in a chinchilla house to prevent freezing of the animal's drinking water, but that really isn't essential and is done largely for the labor saving involved.

Chinchillas originally came from the high, desert-like plateaus of the Andes Mountain chain in South America. Being naturally hardy creatures, they have become well acclimated here and can be raised successfully with a few simple precautions taken to protect them from extreme temperatures and against dampness. They must be kept in a dry place.

In only the third year after Mr. Raley began his chinchilla raising he received an award for the improvement of his herd. He was president of the Arkansas branch of the American Chinchilla Breeders' Association in 1957. The number of breeders in Arkansas has now been reduced to such an extent that those that were in the Arkansas branch now belong elsewhere. Paul Raley is now a member of the East Texas branch.

As the animals are sold, their pedigrees, show ribbons, and trophies go with them. So, the awards now in the Raley home are only for those animals he still owns. He has 36 ribbons including three large rosettes, which are reserved champion awards. As for loving cups there are those for a Grand Show Champion, a Dark Show Champion, a Medium Show Champion, a Pale Show Champion and a Medium Show Champion which also was the winner of a trophy for Reserve Grand Show Champion.

Of course, the chinchillas are branded but to preserve the pelts the brand is put inside the ear. "P R 6" is the ear tattoo which is the ranch brand of Paul Raley's animals.

Dynamite Blast Panics Pupils

NEW YORK (AP)—A dynamite blast at an excavation for a new approach to the George Washington Bridge today sent rocks flying hundreds of feet, injured four persons, shattered windows at a Bert Murphy, a vice president of school, and panicked pupils in classes there.

Three windows were broken at the Greek Orthodox Parochial School of St. Spyridon at 17th St. Police established the women and Wadsworth Ave. Two teachers were slain early Monday afternoon and began cooking his mother, Edna, 33.

A roll of 35 m.m. camera film yielded three color transparencies. State Atty. Harold Warren said the photos produced new leads in the case but he did not allow newsmen to inspect the photos. It was learned that all three photos were taken of the women posing in the park.

Wrong Court

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—A man sat through Thursday night's session of town court. At the end, he came forward and asked, "What about me?" His summons, it turned out, was for East Lynne Town Court, about 10 miles away. His name was not learned.

U.S. Planning Flashing Star Satellite Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plans to launch this year a flashing-star satellite that will help map the earth precisely.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration told about it today in its semiannual report to President Eisenhower. The report covered the April-September 1959 period, but NASA said the launching may not be attempted until next fall.

Plans call for sending into an orbit a satellite that regularly flashes a light.

By photographing the light flashes against the background of the stars, it will be possible to determine the satellite's position within an accuracy of 50 to 100 feet, at an altitude of 1,000 miles, NASA said.

The flashing satellite will make possible, more accurate measurement of the size and shape of the earth, and will provide new information on orbital irregularities.

The report also told of plans for the first Tiros weather satellite, which will carry two television cameras to take pictures of the earth's cloud cover. A later version, Tiros II, will include infrared radiation detectors to report radiation information.

Says 31 Ready to Abandon Demo Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.) says he and 31 other southern congressmen may leave the Democratic party if they don't get better treatment from the House leadership.

If the group should follow through with its threat, the move possibly could give Republicans control of the next House without winning the election.

Nothing in the rules would prevent southern Democrats from voting with Republicans when the new congress is organized next year.

But the outward reaction of some Democratic leaders was amusement rather than anxiety. House Democratic leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said "I thought he was kidding."

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas declined comment.

Whitten made his threat during the civil rights debate after accusing the present Democratic and Republican House leadership of running roughshod over the South for political purposes.

Whitten said that if the political division of the next House is as close as expected, a group of southern Democrats would hold the balance of power on election of officers. The House now has 280 Democrats, 152 Republicans and 5 vacancies. Whitten said his group "can make its weight felt in committee makeup."

A source close to Rayburn said any southern revolt better have advance assurances of success or the revolt might find themselves without committee assignments.

Youth Stabs His Father to Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 13-year-old boy stabbed his father to death today. Police said the boy told them he came to the aid of his mother who was being choked by the father during a domestic quarrel.

The victim was John C. Blank, 61. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Detective Sgt. John Stevenson said the boy, John Robert, 13, was saying his father came home early today and began choking his mother, Edna, 33.

Brands Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has branded as "vicious and inexcusable" the scrawling of swastikas beside the signature of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. The swastikas—symbol of Nazi Germany—were found near Adenauer's signature shortly after he signed the guest book at the National Art Gallery.

Youth Convicted

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Daniel H. Abright, 19, of Harrisburg, was convicted Thursday of molesting a minor and sentenced to eight months in prison for painting swastikas and initials on a synagogue here last January.

Says Presummit Meet Should Be International

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has proposed to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany that any presummit plebiscite held in West Berlin should be conducted with international observers present.

Adenauer, who called for such a plebiscite in a speech here Wednesday, said it should be conducted by the Western powers.

The United States is beginning consultations with Britain and France — the other two powers with troops in West Berlin — on the Chancellor's proposal. U. S. officials are not sure of this point whether it will be accepted. London has been cool to the idea and authorities here do not like the form Adenauer suggested. Also, they say, there is little time for making arrangements with the summit meeting in Paris only two months away.

Adenauer argued that the West Berliners would vote overwhelmingly in favor of the continued presence of the United States, Britain and France in their city and thus reject Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan to have the Western allies abandon West Berlin to what Khrushchev calls a "free city" status.

Herter is understood to have argued that when West Berliners voted two years ago and clearly showed their dislike for Khrushchev's ideas, Soviet propaganda promptly denounced the election as one held at bayonet point. Herter believes that the presence of international observers would forestall such a propaganda attack this time.

Did Wonders With a Few Credit Cards

NEW YORK (AP)—A fellow can do wonders with credit cards these days, and Charles Gregory Cannon did.

Furthermore, Cannon found a way to improve on the system—he started making his own cards.

They got him a $45-a-day hotel suite. They also got him a more modest room in the local jailhouse.

There he sat today, doubtless reflecting that his style of living hereafter will be on a scale reduced from his previous $10,000-a-month clip.

He was a real man of distinction as he reached the detention quarters. He wore a dark blue jacket, Sedate gray trousers, vest and ascot made a neat contrast.

A neatly clipped mustache, homburg hat, silver topped cane and gray gloves added to his air of a fine gentleman.

FBI agents took him in custody—along with an "array" of do-it-yourself devices including a printing press, a check-writing machine, engraving tools and other materials for forging credit cards, checks and identification slips.

Cannon, said authorities, though only 35, had spent about nine years in jail for various crimes. Last November he broke out of jail at Miami, Fla., where he was serving a one-year term for using a fake credit card.

Soon he was roaming the countryside—and living off the fat of it—from Florida to Canada. It was estimated that he had obtained $15,000 through hot checks and another $20,000 worth of the niceties of life with his phony credit cards.

Would See Khrushchev

LONDON (AP) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said today he would like to confer with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, as he has with other world leaders.

The 73-year-old Israeli leader talked over Middle East problems with President Eisenhower in Washington last week, with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in New York Monday, and with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan here Thursday. He hopes to see France's President Charles de Gaulle in the spring.

For an enjoyable vacation, you should be sure your money outweighs your luggage.

AMERICA AFLOAT

MODERN BOAT FRILLS, FIXTURES MULTIPLY
By WILLIAM T. MCKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating
Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LOS ANGELES, Calif. (NEA)— many necessities could go aboard a
"fully equipped" boat this year?
A marina here set out to find out and ended up with over 70 items.

Political Candidates

The Star is authorized to announce that the following are candidates for public office subject to action of the Democratic elections in July and August:

For Sheriff
JIMMIE GRIFFIN

For Tax Assessor
CARTER SUTTON
LAWRENCE MAY

For County Judge
U. G. GARRETT
ORIE O. BYERS

County Treasurer
HARRY HAWTHORNE

For Constable
(DeRoan Township)
DON R. SIMPSON

For County Clerk
J. D. "DICK" TURNAGE

For Circuit Clerk

on fox tails and add needless chrome gadgets, he still likes some of the added fixtures he found of the family car.

The boat chosen for the experiment here was a rugged 10-foot offshore lapstrake day cruiser. Then the dealer began to add on a few essentials. Are you ready to start counting?

First a 60 horsepower outboard motor was mounted, with remote throttle and shift controls. A steering wheel and hydraulic linkage was also installed. A convertible top was added and seat cushions were placed aboard. For required equipment, a forward red and green plus a stern light were necessary, as well as a fire extinguisher and horn.

But in addition to Coast Guard requirements, certain other items are essential for safety. An anchor on the forward deck, a davit to make it easier to handle and a slow wind added. The anchor line was passed back through fairleads to a winch, then down a deck pipe into a storage locker below.

On the foredeck a pulpit railing was bolted. Also a mooring bit, checks to hold the mooring lines, and a small flag staff and pennant were rigged. For the windshield area there are a spotlight, windshield wipers and electric horn. On the dash board appears a tachometer, switches, speedometer, barometer, clock, battery charge indicator and two dash lights. Stored conveniently near the helm are a waterproof flashlight and holder, signal flares, boat hook and holder, paddle, fog horn, and four grab handles for rough going. Four adult-size life jackets are also shelved here, plus a bailer and bilge pump, registration holder and tool box. Slightly frivolous perhaps, but pleasant are a mounted water container and plastic glasses with a special rack to keep them from spilling in a seaway.

Basics stashed aboard for the fisherman are bait net, plastic bucket, gaff, and rod holders. Along the sides are mounted cleats to hold fenders stored aboard, while at the transom are additional mooring cleats, checks,

Wall Blamed for A Quarrel

PARIS (AP)—A garden wall in Tunis and a sidewalk in Paris today furnished grounds for a quarrel between diplomats of France and Tunisia.

A few days ago Tunisian workmen—over French protests—tore down the garden wall of the French Embassy in Tunis as part of a road improvement scheme. Thursday night in Paris, a French foreman and five Algerian workmen ripped up the sidewalk in front of the Tunisian Embassy. They said they were looking for possible leaks in a water main.

They dug a trench and embassy visitors could only enter or leave the building in single file. The French Foreign Ministry claimed to know nothing about the affair.

"We don't deal with street repairs," a spokesman said.

3 Shot to Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A couple and one of their children were found shot to death at their home in the Canoga Park district of the San Fernando Valley today. Another child was critically wounded.

Police said the mother, Marianna Breidenbach, 22, apparently shot her husband and the child, then turned the gun on herself.

The father, Eugene, 26, was found dead on the sidewalk in front of the home. The children, Linda, 6, and Laurie, 3, were shot while in their beds. Linda was still alive when police arrived.

Mrs. Breidenbach was found dead in a hallway.

Museum Director Dies

MADRID (AP)—Fernando Alvarez de Sotomayor, Pablo Picasso's successor as director of the Prado Museum, died Thursday of a heart attack. He was 61. Before becoming director of Madrid's Prado, De Sotomayor was one of Spain's best known painters.

ski tow hooks, stern flag staff and socket, plus yacht ensign flag.

A rubber mat covers the deck, and under the after seat are stowed gas tank, with hold-down funnel, battery and battery box, spare propeller, and boarding ladder.

A small transistor radio receiver as well as a ship-to-shore radio telephone are on board. And to complete the package is a trailer to transport the boat.

The dealer totaled the cost and found the rig reached 4800 for boat, accessories, motor, and trailer.

The rig was placed in the parking lot in front of the dealer's marina. All the next morning it was admired, but by afternoon a customer insisted that since it was ready to go, he had to buy it on the spot so that he could launch it and drive away.

Chapter 24
Winston, the cattle drover, came forward. He was sworn in. A sardonic grin came over his features. "Mr. Winston," began the prosecutor, "where were you at two o'clock this afternoon?" "I was in the hotel bar, having a glass of beer." "What happened while you were there?" "I heard a gun go off, outside on the street, and then a voice yelled out, 'Shay, you dirty crook, come outside.'"

"And then?" "Shay," said Winston, pointing at the prisoner, "got up from a poker game. He said in a loud voice, 'That's Jethro's voice. I guess he didn't think I meant it when I told him to leave town.'"

"The prisoner, Paul Shay, said that?" "Yes, sir." "Very well. Did he say anything else?" "He drew his gun and started for the door. He said, 'I guess I'll have to kill a man.' He went outside. I—I followed. Up to the door, that is. I saw him shoot Jethro. You're sure of that?" "Of course. He said he was going to kill Jethro and then he went and done it. Right in front of my own eyes."

"Your witness," said Huntley, turning to Bokker. "Bokker stepped up to within a few feet of the cattleman. 'Mr. Winston, what is your business?' 'I drive cattle. You know that.' 'You drive cattle,' pursued Bokker. 'From where?' 'Texas. Where else?' 'I don't know. I'm asking you. Very well, you drive cattle from

Youths Jailed as School Dope Ring

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Three youths, one a college junior, and a man have been arrested and accused of supplying narcotics to more than 100 high school and college students in Westchester County.

Dist. Atty. Joseph F. Gagliardi announced the arrests Thursday. For the past six months, Gagliardi said, both boys and girls have been using narcotics as a prelude to church socials and country club affairs.

The students largely are unaware their identities are known, Gagliardi said. And the parents, he said, are generally ignorant of their youngsters' deviations.

Gagliardi said the offenses were chiefly in Port Chester, Rye, Mamaroneck, New Rochelle, and neighboring areas on Long Island Sound.

Those arrested are: Charles Messina, 22, of Mamaroneck, a junior at New Rochelle's Iona College; Peter Furano, 16, of Port Chester; Donald S. Delchico, 21, of New Rochelle; and Alfred Michael, 36, of North Pelham, an unemployed butler and father of two children.

Messina, officials said, financed his education by being a "pusher." They said they found enough marijuana seeds, in his shoes and in a mattress in his room, to plant an acre of the weed.

Also found was a public library book titled "Drugs of the Mind," with overdue New York City parking tickets as bookmarks.

Haymes Is Bankrupt

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Dick Haymes filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy Thursday listing $5,493 in assets and $722,242 in liabilities. In his petition, the 41-year-old Haymes listed 246 creditors, including former wives Joanne Dru, $20,000 and Nora Edington, $11,000. Both have accused him of being in arrears in alimony or support payments.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Texas to Kansas. Your own cattle."

"Mine and my partner's. We buy Longhorns in Texas and we sell them here."

"What do you pay for the cattle you buy?"

Winston bristled. "What business is that of yours?"

"Your Honor," Bokker appealed to the judge, "I ask that the prisoner be ordered to answer."

Does the price he pays for cattle have any bearing on this case?"

"I think it does."

"Very well, the prisoner will answer counsel."

Winston scowled at Bokker. "Three dollars, maybe four."

"Four dollars."

"That's in Texas," said Winston, frowning. "We got to drive them 600 miles to Pawnee City."

"Of course. Now, will you tell the court what you receive for cattle here in Pawnee City?"

"That's my business!" exclaimed Winston.

"Your Honor—" began Bokker. Judge Paisley pointed his gavel at Winston. "Once more and I'll hold you in contempt of court. You will answer the questions of counsel."

"Isn't it a fact, Mr. Winston," Bokker proceeded, "that you sold a herd of 800 steers to Mr. Shay only this morning, for a price of $21 per steer?"

"He cheated me out of four dollars a steer!"

"You received $21 for steers for which you paid only four dollars. In other words, you made a profit of $17 per steer. It's true that you had to drive the steers some 600 miles to make that profit, but you did make a profit, did you not?"

"If you call that a profit."

"I do. You have just admitted that you believed Paul Shay cheated you. In other words, you feel badly toward Mr. Shay."

"He's a crook!"

"Mr. Shay is not on trial for being a crook. You are testifying against him in a murder case . . . and you are prejudiced against him."

Bokker paused, then said suddenly, "No more questions."

Winston got up. As he passed Bokker to resume his seat among the spectators, he gave him an angry look.

Huntley stepped up to the marshal, Fletcher Trow. He talked quickly, excitedly, although in low tones. Trow listened, then shook his head. Huntley, scowling, turned to the judge.

"The prosecution has no more witnesses. We believe we have proved beyond doubt that the defendants—"

"I'll decide that," interrupted Judge Paisley. "Mr. Bokker, do you have any witnesses for the defense?"

"Yes, Your Honor."

Bokker was the only witness for the defense. Briefly he told of the meeting and poker game with Jethro and Templeton on the train, of the argument in the hotel the day before, and of the shooting. Huntley offered no cross-examination and Bokker resumed his position beside Paul Shay while the judge regarded him gravely.

"Mr. Bokker, you are an attorney-at-law. I am surprised that you took the law into your own hands."

"I had to act quickly, Your Honor," Bokker said defensively. "There wasn't time to appeal to the law."

"That is the mitigating circumstance," the judge continued. "Men should not be allowed to carry weapons."

"But I cannot decide on that basis. I can only view the evidence and make my decision from what I have heard that the deceased, Jethro and Templeton, were intent on killing Mr. Shay. Mr. Shay had a right to defend himself. He did so. You, Mr. Bokker, you saved Mr. Shay's life. I abhor the fact of an attorney-at-law carrying weapons, but since I can do nothing about that, I can only declare that you acted within the rights of a citizen in preventing harm to another . . . Case dismissed."

POWER that sustains may be found thru regular church attendance

as you would

...continuing with the Golden Rule. And it is doubtful if any words of Jesus have been quoted more and with approval. It strikes our conscience and our reason. Therefore, "As You Would." That puts the Rule on a very personal basis... better take a look at yourself before you look at your neighbor. Do you know your mind? What do you want for yourself... health, wealth, honor, knowledge, favor and forgiveness of God? If you had three wishes that would be granted, how would you select them from the myriad claims upon your devotion? Paul lists the ends for which he strove... "love, joy, peace, patience, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self control." Was he wise? Would you put material values above these personal virtues? What goods are necessary and which of them could you do without? Perhaps it would help to reflect on your record. Actually, it will be decided exactly... "AS YOU WOULD."

More on the Golden Rule next week.
